FAITH VOICES FOR A HEALTHY CLIMATE

COMPiled BY MOMS clean air FORCE
Not long ago I could barely say hello to a colleague because she was an Evangelical. I just assumed she wasn’t my type. I can say this now because I worship the ground Deb walks on. She and other courageous faith leaders have imbued this new experience with a grace, dignity and resolve that is divine. And I don’t say this lightly.

There’s a lot I didn’t “get” about faith leaders that I get now – the respect, tenderness towards life, humility and the profound commitment to stewardship even when taking on action that is frightening. It sure has taught me a lot about myself.

After 25 years of being a psychiatrist I know that more than anything else, we seek a sense of purpose in life. It is difficult knowing that I am working with so many extraordinary faith-based activists because civilization is on the precipice – but I consider myself lucky beyond words to be shoulder to shoulder with some of the finest people around.

-LISE VAN SUSTEREN

Interfaith Moral Action on Climate got started around 2011 when a number of us realized that only sounding the science on climate change wasn’t going to wake people up to the problem. We needed the moral voice and fervor of people of faith and spirituality to help drive the message deep into people’s hearts.

But no one would ever have thought I would work as a religious organizer – certainly not me. My last connection with religion was as an errant teenager leaving Mass after taking communion at my Catholic girls’ boarding school, and heading, while the nuns’ heads were still down, into the cloister (it still scares me to talk about it) to steal the biggest box of Marshall Field Frango Mints you ever saw.

When we started up our coalition, a friend consulted her astrologer (covering all our bases here), who read my chart and remarked, “She has been looking for this work for a long time.” She was right, but that search was deep down inside of me.
“The time to find global solutions is running out. We can find adequate solutions only if we act together and unanimously...

An effective fight against global warming will be possible only with a collective and responsible answer.”

- POPE FRANCIS
"It is time for mothers, all concerned parents, and all who care for our children’s future, to call upon their representatives to

for the critical importance of clean air for their families."

RABBI WARREN STONE, KENSINGTON, MD
Eminent scientists have said that global warming is as dangerous for our future as nuclear war.

We have entered the uncharted territory of a global emergency, where "business as usual" cannot continue.

We must take the initiative to repair and protect this world, ensuring a safe-climate future for all people and all species.*

-The Dalai Lama
If anyone should be above the curve when it comes to protecting the Earth and our children, it should be those who claim to have a personal relationship with God.

If God created the Earth and all that inhabit it, isn’t it being disrespectful to pick and choose what we are going to protect?

We spend so much time focusing on human rights, yet we gloss over the conditions in our world that silently threaten the quality of our lives.

- Laura Michelle Burns, Mom from Ohio
“As people of faith, we have a sacred duty to LOVE OUR NEIGHBORS.

Burning FOSSIL FUEL creates pollution, HARMS OUR NEIGHBORS’ HEALTH, and is causing unprecedented climate change.

Our nation must move rapidly toward renewable energy alternatives.”

REV. CANON SALLY G. BINGHAM, SAN FRANCISCO CA, PRESIDENT OF IPL
“As a pastor, as a father, as a citizen of the world, I’m here to say we need to support the president and all those of good will who want to fight climate change. We owe it to our Creator and our children.”

Rev. Chuck Currie, Portland OR “EVERYTHING NOW POINTS TO THE FACT THAT MANKIND HAS NEGLECTED ITS RESPONSIBILITIES AS KHALIFA [GUARDIAN OF THE WORLD] IN THE WAY IT IS DESTROYING THE NATURAL WORLD.

SCIENTISTS ARE CONFIRMING THAT OUR ACTIONS HAVE INDUCED GLOBAL WARMING AND CLIMATE CHANGE, WHICH IS DISRUPTING THE VERY PATTERNING OF ALLAH’S CREATION THAT HAS UNIQUELY ENDOWED PLANET EARTH WITH A CLIMATE SUITED TO THE PROPAGATION AND SUSTENANCE OF LIFE.”

IFTIKHAR AWAN, UNITED KINGDOM
“OUR REFORM JEWISH VALUES CALL ON US TO BE STEWARDS OF THE EARTH, NOT JUST FOR OUR OWN BENEFIT AND THE WELL-BEING OF THOSE WITH WHOM WE SHARE THIS PLANET TODAY, BUT BECAUSE OF RESPONSIBILITY TO THE GENERATIONS THAT WILL SUCCEED US.

THESE GUIDING PRINCIPLES INSPIRE OUR SUPPORT OF MEASURES TO STEM THE IMPACT OF CLIMATE CHANGE - INCLUDING THE EPA’S PROPOSED REGULATIONS ON CARBON EMISSIONS FROM NEW POWER PLANTS.”

-BARBARA WEINSTEIN, RELIGIOUS ACTION CENTER OF REFORM JUDAISM
All traditions call for protecting the earth. It's our religious obligation. The earth and the human race are in danger. It's our task to make the changes, and our job to repair it.*

Rabbi Arthur Waskow, The Shalom Center
“WE VIEW CLIMATE CHANGE AS THE MORAL ISSUE OF OUR TIME, AND FEEL WE HAVE AN OBLIGATION TO REVERSE THE IMPLICATIONS OF OUR CARELESS ACTIONS.

AS CHRISTIANS, WE ARE CALLED TO BE STEWARDS OF THE LAND THAT WAS GIFTED TO US AND ENSURE THAT WE LEAVE THIS PLANET BETTER FOR THE NEXT GENERATION.”

TRICIA BRUCKBAUER, CREATION JUSTICE MINISTRIES
“As people of faith, we can let justice roll like waters and righteousness like a mighty stream by speaking out.

We can love our neighbors as ourselves in the way we use our resources and the way we speak out against expanding our fossil fuel consumption through drilling and pipelines.

Most of all, spreading awareness about climate change will enable us all to be good parents, grandparents, aunts, and uncles.”

BRIAN SNOW, LANCASTER PA
"AN IMPORTANT QUESTION FOR CHRISTIANS, AND FOR ALL PEOPLE OF GOODWILL, IS THIS:

HOW MUCH CARBON POLLUTION SHOULD POWER PLANTS BE PERMITTED TO DUMP INTO THE ATMOSPHERE - FOR OTHERS TO PAY FOR IN HEALTH, AND IN CLIMATE DISRUPTION COSTS?

FROM THE EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED CHRISTIAN PERSPECTIVE, IT’S CLEARLY WRONG FOR A BUYER AND A SELLER TO ENJOY ALL THE BENEFITS OF A TRANSACTION, AND THEN LEAVE A SUBSTANTIAL PART OF THE COST FOR SOMEONE ELSE TO PICK UP - THE EXTERNAL COSTS."

JOHN ELWOOD, NEW JERSEY FARMER AND MEMBER OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
"God gave us the gift of a sound mind and heart. How can I talk about economic poverty and injustices if I can’t breathe clean air and the water is so toxic that I can’t drink it?"

-Rev. Dr. Gerald Durley, Atlanta GA
“I believe that ordinary people can accomplish extraordinary things. We can create a clean energy future. We’ve got to tell our leaders to put people before polluters.”

RABBI SHARON BROUS, LOS ANGELES CA
“Evangelicals must learn to begin to discuss the environmental crisis with creativity and integrity.

Whether it’s because we know we play an integral role in the healing of the world, in agreement with Wendell Berry, who says our fate is “mingled in the fate of the world.”

Or, because we’ve come to see our responsibility to care for God’s creation as a central aspect of our love of Jesus Christ.”

Regardless of our reason – silence can’t be our policy.

Dr. A. J. Swoboda, Portland OR
“Science helps me understand how human activities affect global conditions, but it is not my primary motivation in trying to call attention to climate change. That motivation comes from my faith commitment.”

DOROTHY BOORSE, WENHAM MA AND PROFESSOR OF ECOLOGY AT GORDON COLLEGE

“I stand before you today not as a scientist or engineer or even as an environmental advocate, but first and foremost as a person of faith called to care for God’s good creation and to walk alongside my brothers and sisters around the globe who are struggling to survive the impacts of a changing climate... While we in in our places of comfort and privilege in the United States have debated the science and argued the statistics and perpetuated our polluting ways, our brothers and sisters around the world – and in vulnerable communities here at home – have suffered. Now is our time to act.”

JOHN HILL, GENERAL BOARD OF CHURCH AND SOCIETY OF THE UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
“MORE THAN PURELY AN ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUE, THE SETTING OF CARBON STANDARDS IS AN ISSUE OF FAIRNESS, EQUITY AND JUSTICE...

It is not only future generations that will bear the impacts of climate change. They are being felt now, most intensely by those populations around the world who are least able to cope with them. We must act with great conviction and haste to move toward solutions.

THE CENTRAL PRINCIPLE OF THE BAHÁ’Í FAITH IS THE ONENESS OF HUMANKIND.

This principle has deep implications for policy in many arenas. It should guide us to seek solutions that are equitable and just, treating all people as members of one human family.

EPA’S PROPOSED CARBON STANDARDS FOR NEW POWER PLANTS REPRESENT ONE WAY THAT THIS PRINCIPLE CAN BE PUT INTO ACTION.”

~ Peter Adriance, US Bahai Office of Public Affairs
“Our economy can never be so desperate that we sell off our children’s right to fresh air...

African American children are 5 TIMES more likely to DIE of asthma and 3 times more likely to be admitted to the hospital for an asthma attack.

This is directly related to unbridled carbon pollution in the air. When combined with the other toxins that come from power plants such as arsenic, mercury, and lead, carbon pollution creates a lethal gas chamber - a death dome - which hovers over our communities and snuffs out lives prematurely.

It is unbridled carbon pollution that is the number one driver of climate change. Those most impacted by climate change are the most vulnerable members of society we are called to serve.”

~ Reverend M. Dele, United Church of Christ, Virginia
“I JOIN THE GROWING CHORUS OF PEOPLE WHO BELIEVE THAT THERE IS NO MORE IMPORTANT ISSUE FACING OUR WORLD THAN THE DEVASTATING EFFECTS OF POLLUTION FROM OUR CARBON HUNGRY ECONOMY, INCLUDING CLIMATE DISRUPTION AND HEALTH PROBLEMS.”

~ SARAH SCHERSCHLIGT
PEACE LUTHERAN CHURCH, ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA

“I GREW UP ON SERMONS REMINDING ME THAT THE EARTH IS A PRECIOUS GIFT FROM GOD. NOW WHEN I HEAR SUCH SERMONS I OFTEN END UP IN TEARS. I SEE THE CHANGES HAPPENING TO MY BELOVED AND BEAUTIFUL STATE DUE TO CLIMATE CHANGE, AND I AM FRIGHTENED ABOUT WHAT THE FUTURE HOLDS.”

~ KAREN MARYSDAUGHTER, MONROE ME
"CLIMATE CHANGE IS NOT A SECOND- TIER ISSUE THAT CAN WAIT UNTIL WE SOLVE SYRIA, IRAN, ISRAEL/PALESTINE, THE CENTRAL AFRICAN REPUBLIC, AND OTHER NATIONS’ CONFLICTS. IT IS A FORCE OF DESTRUCTION IN OUR WORLD, AND IT IS ACTIVE NOW, IN PLACES WE DON’T USUALLY SEE, AFFECTING PEOPLE JESUS CALLS US TO LOVE AS OUR NEIGHBORS."

LIZ SCHMITT, WASHINGTON DC
"I am a human, a mother, an evangelical Christian who knows that Jesus said to love God and love your neighbor as yourself.

The impacts of climate change are going to fall disproportionately on the poorest.

Who doesn't believe that we should take care of the poor and needy?"

Katharine Hayhoe, Lubbock TX
Co-author of A Climate for Change: Global Warming Facts for Faith-Based Decisions
“Children, both born and unborn, are our most precious gift.

Each child should be born into a welcoming world, not one threatened by a changing climate.

For people like me who are pro-life evangelical Christians and life-long Republicans, defending our children, the unborn, and those yet to be born, is at the heart of who we are.”

Reverend Mitchell C. Hescox
President/CEO, Evangelical Environmental Network, York County, PA
“THIS IS ONE FRANCISCAN WHO WILL NEVER STOP FIGHTING FOR CLEAN AIR, NOT ONLY FOR HER FAMILY, BUT FOR ALL OF GOD’S CHILDREN.”

ELISA BATISTA, OAKLAND, CA
“I have been called by God to speak out on these issues, because it is my conviction as an Evangelical Christian that we must be stewards of God’s creation. And, it seems abundantly clear to me that the EPA’s carbon rule is a much-needed tool to carry out this call to be stewards of creation.”

- Reverend Richard Cizik
President, New Evangelical Partnership for the Common Good, Virginia
"Sikh teachings affirms the sanctity of the Earth; our Mata Dharat (Mother Earth) is what binds us together as a human family...

Humans of all walks not only care, but have the amazing potential to come together and send a clear message to leaders: we need a global commitment to a low-carbon future and strong cuts on emissions."
